21.-23. soruları aşağıdaki parçaya göre cevaplayınız.

Guns N'Roses was founded in Los Angeles in June, 1985. Singer W. Axl Rose, guitarists Tracii Guns and Izzy Stradlin, bassist Ole Beich and drummer Rob Gardner formed the band. Axl's old band was named Hollywood Rose and Tracii's old band was named L.A. Guns. They joined the two names, and this is how they got the name Guns N' Roses. In 1986 Guns N' Roses went to Seattle to perform. Tracii Guns and Rob Gardiner could not attend the show. Rose called his friends, guitarist Slash and drummer Steve Adler. He asked them for help. They joined the band and became permanent members. On the way back to Los Angeles, the five members wrote the lyrics for 'Welcome to the Jungle', which became their most famous song. In 1987, their debut album, Appetite for Destruction was released. It sold 20,000 copies. Even today it still holds the record for the best-selling debut album of all time.

21. One can conclude from the details given in the passage that Tracii and Rob weren't band members ----.

- A) as a result of their immature behaviour
- B) since they were never a part of the band
- C) at first although they eventually joined the band
- D) only joining the band temporarily during the Seattle concert
- E) once they were replaced by new personnel

22. The passage gives us a description of a rock group ----.

- A) that holds the record for the best-selling debut album ever
- B) which is the most popular American band ever
- C) making it clear that they are no longer playing together
- D) that was formed by the guitarist Slash
- E) adding that it made so much money, it no longer needed to give live performances

23. From the passage, we learn that 'Welcome to the Jungle' was written by all five band members, ----.

- A) in addition to the fact that it describes life in Los Angeles
- B) during their journey to Seattle from Los Angeles
- C) although they had performed a version of it in Seattle
- D) and eventually became Guns N' Roses most famous song
- E) but the lyrics were provided by Tracii Guns

24.-26. soruları aşağıdaki parçaya göre cevaplayınız.

A laser which melts fat is being developed by scientists. Experts from the Massachusetts General Hospital in the US said it could be used to treat heart disease, cellulite, and acne. The laser is able for, the first time, to heat up fat in the body without harming the overlying skin. Using the Free-Electron Laser at selected wavelengths, scientists were able to heat the fat up, which was then broken down and excreted by the body. Professor Rox Anderson, dermatologist at the Massachusetts General Hospital, led the experiment using pig fat and skin samples about two inches thick. He said the results showed that selective photothermolysis - heating tissues with light - could have medical applications in the future, including treating acne. The results of the research were presented to the annual meeting of the American Society for Laser Medicine and Surgery.
